

Submitter:

Shunsuke Yamamoto

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

I can't fathom how incredibly out of touch with your constituents, your peers, even your immediate family you need to be to suggest that our established mail-in-voting rights need to be revisited. The convenience mail in voting affords allows me to conduct my civic duty while juggling a full time job and the needs of two children. Any suggestion of removing this will be seen as a move to harm families. Is that what the sponsor of this bill is looking for?