Voting by mail was already vitally important for Oregonians to make their voices heard. Nowadays we are experiencing daily attacks on democracy, and a way to vote regardless of physical ability to reach a polling location is even more important than it ever was. Any attempt to change voting methods during this time in our history should be looked at with heavy scrutiny, as it is almost certainly a way for the corrupt billionaires who bought this country to ensure they never lose their grip on it. I wholeheartedly oppose removing vote-by-mail, and I wholeheartedly oppose any form of voter suppression.
