Oregon needs to amend the state rule from mail in voting and return to in-person voting. Adequate technology exists for rural residents to request absentee ballots if necessary. There has been far too many instances of voter fraud across all states. Oregon has also had a Democrat super majority for the last several decades. Data shows that mail in voting favors Democrats winning political race outcomes. In-person voting mitigates the opportunity for votes from non-qualified persons to be counted in the popular vote count. In-Person voting levels fairness and eliminates cheating.
