

Submitter:

Emily Crawford

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

In person voting makes it near impossible for so many people to vote: the elderly, disabled, those who can't afford to take time off work, those who travel, those too far from polling stations, those with social anxieties, those fearful of voting intimidation, those who are responsible for caregiving/childcare, etc. Everyone should have access to vote, and there's absolutely no vetted statistics that show any significant negative effects to mail in voting.