As an older woman with medical mobility issues and no driver's license, vote-by-mail makes it possible to exercise the most precious responsibility of an American citizen without having to physically suffer for it. I don't have to take extra pain medication, grab the cane, walk 4 blocks to my precinct, stand in line (the most painful part of life for me), interact with unknown people (much harder post-pandemic), all to accomplish something which could be done at home when I am feeling up to making considered and informed decisions. I am not alone. I am one of many, a lot of whom are in more pain, are more fragile, or live further from their precincts than me. Eliminating vote-by-mail will effectively disenfranchise a population already struggling to find equity. Please don't let this happen to us!!!
