I recently moved from 1774 Ironwood Ct. In Bend. Just before I moved, I received not only my ballot in the mail, but ballots for three other people who previously lived at that address. I think all of them now live outside of Oregon. When people move out of state they don't notify anyone in Bend. I threw these ballots away. It would be easy for someone to cheat. This probably happens to LOTS of addresses in Oregon. Voting in person solves this problem.
