

Submitter:

Julia Heaston

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

Making voting in-person only removes accessibility for people with illnesses and disabilities and rural voters that cannot access a voting location, as well as lower income voters that cannot miss work. This hurts both democrats and republicans equally and there is no reason to change voting to in-person only.