There is no benefit to stopping mail-in voting, and demanding that people show up in-person to vote is hugely discriminatory. Voting by mail is a safe and trusted practice that has been used in Oregon for years without issue and is much more cost-effective than other voting methods. Further, it is crucial to making voting as accessible as possible for all Oregon residents, which drastically increases voter participation. As a parent of young children, voting by mail has been hugely beneficial for me and I know many others who feel the same. It gives me time to research candidates and study the ballot so I am able to make informed choices. Please protect the voting rights of Oregonians.
