Current System: I receive my voter's pamphlet weeks in advance. I have ample time to research the candidates and their stances. I fill out my ballot in the comfort of my own home when I please. Any day of the election window I choose, I drive to a ballot drop-off box at my convenience and drop my ballot off, sometimes without even having to get out of my car.

Proposed System: I either take a specific day off of work to wait in a long line at one of few locations to cast my ballot or I don't take the day off work and wait in a longer line to do the same. Plus the odds of me getting that day off is poor due to many others also requesting the time off unless my employer makes it a day off or the US government makes it a federal holiday (yea right).

Oregon has one of the highest voter turn-out rates in the entire country when it comes to elections at any level. Our system is inclusive and convenient, and most importantly, is proven to be effective with so little fraud it might as well be zero.

Your attempts at ending Oregon's mail-in system is one of the most deplorable things I've seen yet from Republicans, and that's saying a lot based on what Trump and his cronies have been up to.

If you are truly a representative of the people, then listen to what the people not, what your Supreme Commander demands.
