I oppose in person only voting. This will negatively impact many Oregonians who find travel difficult, who cannot take time off from work to stand at the polls, or who may be out of the state during an election. This will also greatly impact the counties' election offices that will have to process more day of votes and deal with crowds. The Hillsboro election office for Washington County does not have enough space for parking for all residents to appear on one day. I have been part of in person only voting and it is an incredibly painful process that only leads to more registered voters opting out of voting. This is a bad decision.
