SB210

Eliminating vote by mail creates unnecessary barriers for elderly, disabled, and working voters, making it harder for them to participate in our democracy. Vote by mail has been proven to increase voter turnout, ensuring more voices are heard in elections. Yet, there is no alternative plan to replace this vital option. This bill, pushed by Republicans, is rooted in Trump's false claims about election fraud—designed to sow fear, distrust, and suppress votes rather than protect our fundamental right to vote.
