I became an Oregonian in 1992. I have cherished the ability to vote by mail. I actually use the local drop boxes. The convenience is a blessing - waiting in long lines to vote in person is difficult for me, and many others I know too. My privacy and anonymity are extremely important. During times when the elections are very contentious (which seems to be more of the norm these days) it can be frightening to wait in line to vote with angry, screaming people driving by or on the street harassing you. These activities would prevent many of my senior friends from voting. Please don't take this wonderful privilege of mail-in ballots away from us Oregonians. Thank you
