The united states lags many other countries in voter participation. Nearly all democratic nations automatically register legal citizens to vote. Not the united states. Every barrier to voting does not increase security it decreases participation. Oregon has consistently ranked among the highest voter participation in the country. The current system here should be the gold standard used by all states. Stripping this from us is simply giving into the fear and manipulation being spread by the current administration. Do not give in to the lies!

Absolutely do not suppress the vote under the false flag of "security".
