I object to changing the way that Oregon has voted for the last few decades. I've voted in every single election since I turned 18 and that's in large part due to the fact that I can receive my voters pamphlet at home and in my own time research and complete the act of voting as an informed citizen. Only a party interested in keeping the least informed people interested in voting would take a system that has NEVER had an issue with voter integrity or turnout and pulling it back to a system where only certain people who can get time off from work can vote-there is no reason rooted in reality or past data that would justify this change.
