If you take away mail in voting then that is some major bummage, dude. I can't believe how stupid and short sighted this bill is. If you pass this or vote yes then you seriously need to examine your moral integrity. Get a long piece of bacon and sizzle it until it turns black, then eat it if you vote yet on this legislation. I hope every single person who voted yes gets massive diarrhea on Election Day and unable to vote without pooping your pants. Do you know how out of touch you are if you think anyone can just take the day off work to vote in person on Election Day? That's because this legislature is full of silver spoon kids with no work ethic and never had to struggle to make ends meet. This is the absolute worst bill I have ever seen and should not even waste the ink to be printed out. Your government overreach has gone too far this time, too far!
