Vote by mail is one of the things that makes Oregon great. Being able to fill out my ballot in the privacy of my own home makes me a more informed voter and makes me more apt to vote in every election. Systems are in place to prevent voter fraud and they work. I would imagine that mail in ballots save money since it requires no election venues and staff on election Day. It allows everyone to vote without having to take time off from work, find childcare or get transportation to polling places. Mail in voting works. Don't destroy it.
