I traveled often throughout my career, and I found Oregon's Vote by Mail system to be the best I have ever encountered. I lived in several other states prior, and often found it difficult and confusing to vote absentee, when I knew I would be traveling on an election day. In Oregon, for well over two decades, it has been automatic and simple. Our voter turnout is typically well above average, no significant fraud has ever been proven, and it saves the state money. Please do not even consider ending the best system in our Republic.
