SB210

I'm at a loss to understand why standing in line in the rain and cold/heat makes for a more informed voter. I've had occasion here in Portland, when we had to go to our physical polling place, had my name struck off which forced me to have to go to the County Elections office, straighten out the non-existent problem. Fortunately I had a car, no mobility issues, no young children or elderly parents to care for.

Vote by mail encourages citizen involvement by allowing robust research into candidates and issues.
