

Submitter: Kristine Demien

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB210

Mail-in balloting increases voter turn-out, and has not been shown to increase voter fraud. By changing back to polling place voting, we increase opportunities for fraud, and make it more difficult for voters with disabilities, or challenges to transportation to get to the polling place to vote.

Any logical person could see that this proposal reduces the opportunity for citizens to cast their ballots without any real benefits to accuracy.