You can't get rid of voting by mail. Because if you do tens of thousands of people won't be able to vote or get their point across. Because what about all the boomers that have been voting the same way for the last 46 terms. You also can't get rid of the way of voting without openly discussing that with the public because voting is supposed to be so the people can have their voice be heard but multiple probably have no idea you are even trying to do this! It's not fair to the people. The government and the people in charge needs to leave shit alone cause everytime yall do something you make it worse! So just stop cause if you guys aren't trying to expand in ways that makes this bullshit more accessible then what the fuck are you doing? Not a good fucking thing all is what you're doing. You sure won't get my vote.
