I love the vote by mail system in Oregon which has allowed me time to research and fill out my ballot at my convenience. Eliminating vote by mail is just another attempt of voter suppression and there is no evidence of widespread fraud using the vote by mail system.

People have very busy lives – working, raising kids, taking care of obligations, maintaining their homes, and taking care of themselves. Some work more than one job or have odd work hours. Some are elderly and others disabled both, often reliant on others for transportation and errands. Vote by Mail allows for all types of living situations and persons; it encourages election participation of our broad electorate.

Vote by mail has been working great for Oregon and other states. Let's keep this great system in place.
