The convenience and consistently demonstrable reliability of mail-in ballots is clear. The MAGA plan to undo this process is not merely a foolish waste of time and taxpayer dollars it presumes a populist mandate in a state where conservatives have only ever managed to consistently demonstrate two qualities: 1) the pathological failure to comprehend their own irrelevance, and 2) the compulsion to return to the same stagnant well from which to draw their obsolete ideas. Not much should be expected from disingenuous grifters whose faith has been placed in a felon and a failed automobile/rocket/social media welfare scheme queen. We don't need to buy into this idiotic MAGA horseshit. Mail-in ballots work for Oregon.
