SB210

I oppose the change to in-person voting because it would increase barriers to voting for many Oregonians. Voting by mail is simple and efficient. Requiring people to vote in-person on a single day would require people to arrange travel, take time off work, arrange childcare and spend time waiting in line for something that we can currently do securely and conveniently by mail. The change to in-person voting would just create more work for the average Oregonian and reduce participation in our democratic process.
