I greatly oppose the idea of the elimination of mail-in voting. We live in a society which has developed an infrastructure in which millions and millions of people must work on differentiating schedules in order to function. Mail in voting gives many people, such as myself. The ability to vote and participate in the politics of our country/state without any of the unnecessary hassle. Many people can not afford to take a day off to dedicate to voting. heck, nobody should have to even dedicate a day to vote period. The only people that benefit from the removal of mail in voting are those who want to suppress the rights of others. period.
