"...they have made it pretty hard for you to vote at all – for there are some political candidates who think that they may have a chance of election, if only the total vote is small enough."

-Franklin Roosevelt, 1944

Some things just never change.

Let our vote-by-mail system be one of those things.

Elections work because citizens take part in them, and vote by mail makes that quick, easy, and convenient.

Republicans do not like it when The People have freedom, so it should come across as no surprise at all that they're trying to pull this fast one.

Some things just never change.
