Factory Farms are NOT good for the environment! The animals are cramped in barns or buildings with little area to move and even NO WINDOWS to give them any light! It's NOT a natural place for any animal. The run off manure goes into the stream or creek and POLLUTES it! People live nearby and this comes into their drinking water... it's now polluted and cannot be drunk or even take baths or showers in it. This farm pollution, if it is close to a river... will then flow to the ocean and the ocean becomes polluted for the marine animals there! Factory Farms are a "no win" for everyone...
