DONT TREAD ON ME

Leave our wells alone. Most rural living Oregonians live a simpler lifestyle and are taking better care of our land than ANY government entity could possibly. Lots of my neighbors could not afford any changes or new requirements to obtain or just to keep their water rights.

This feels like more land grab opportunities or seizure of water rights to residents who PAY for those rights. We made sure to have water rights when purchasing property. You are going to decrease land value and take away our rights of property owners living on waterways.

I strongly urge our government to reconsider any of these bills regarding water metering on wells or regulating waterways.

Oregon government can't even keep our reservoirs full, they drain them at every opportunity.

Leave our private properties ALONE

What a disgrace this state is to constantly attack rural Oregonians. This is totally outrageous and government overreach. If I had the funds, I would challenge this with legal representation. Although, I think that's the point of these measures. To run people out of fighting and into conformation. To run rural constituents who likely are the farmers, self employed contractors, and other extremely important tradesmen and women who don't want to conform to living in the cities and drinking your poisonous bleach water. Killing our livestock, farmlands, properties that we need to keep green to prevent forest fires because we are more at risk of wildfires. Leave RURAL OREGON ALONE, urban Oregon. We don't want to live miserable lives like the liberals that control our state.

We need to focus on our broken healthcare system. We need to work on LEGAL voting measures, we need to work on fixing our budget instead of creating more taxation and driving the working class out of our state.

It won't work, and then the next problem is enforcement. Who's going to come to my property and enforce such draconian measures? No one is welcome on my property without a warrant AND my attorney present.

I strongly, strongly beg and urge our legislators to burn this bill and all the proposed amendments regarding this bill.
