As someone who has paid thousand of dollars to upkeep and use my irrigation system every year, that I rely on to keep my grass green to feed my cattle, this bill is asinine. This state does nothing but strip its residents of everything, if they get into a financial hole, which seems to be. Pretty much the norm now days, they punish us residents, and just find a way to tax or fine us to make up the difference. And it is always for something we need to survive or live a daily life. Enough is enough, agriculture is already a dying art, you would think a state in the PNW would be proud of the roots it holds in agriculture and not help to put an end to it!
