It truly seems the Government is doing its best to take away all rights we the people have. Why do you, the politicians, think you have the right to our water, you did not pay to have the wells installed, however you want control of said item. You might think you all are GOD, but only he determines how much water will be in any area at any given time. We the people like living in the country and one reason is to forgo city POLLUTED water. If your so damn set on controlling water, then why not put this effort into building more reservoirs especially on the East side of the Cascades to retain the excess runoff that we have had this year and, in some years, past. Millions of gallons of water have been just waisted running down the many rivers and if stored, would be available for actual usage and in some ways re plenish the water tables. It's bad enough to deal with all your stupid and im-moral rules, just LEAVE US ALONE.
