At 18 years old Americans can vote, serve in the military, sign contracts, get married and be held fully accountable under the law. They should not be stripped of their second amendment rights. 18 to 20 year old gun owners are most often very responsible and shouldn't be held responsible for the actions of a few. The second amendment does not mention an age restriction and these young people should not be denied their constitutional rights. Gun violence knows no specific age again it is a mental health disorder.
