SB697

At 18 years old, Americans can vote, serve in the military, sign contracts, get married, and be held fully accountable under the law. Stripping them their second Amendment rights while expecting them to fulfill all of the responsibilities of adulthood is unconstitutional and unjust. Furthermore, Criminals do not follow gun laws and obtain firearms illegally. The overwhelming majority of 18-to-20-year-old gun owners are responsible citizens who should not be punished for the actions of a criminal few. This law would only disarm law-abiding individuals while doing nothing to prevent crime.
