This is totally unacceptable. The owner of the wells pays for it to get installed and spends over $20,000 for holes to get dug sometimes not even finding water if a well goes dry. Is the government of Oregon scared if we end up like California due to so many folks moving to the state? At the cost of hard working farmers and residents with land that put so much money of their own after paying tax dollars on the land/water. Why monopolize that? Plans to sell water? Plans to make money from hard working people? Farmers are struggling as it is and folks worked hard to buy a chunk of land out in the countryside to go away from the greed of the few for this. Just unacceptable.
