Delays in getting a Death certificate for a loved one when it can be expedited by electronic reporting is the least anyone could do for the bereaved. This is long overdue and once it is required, we will all see that this is something that should have been addressed long ago. I have been in the funeral industry for 41 years and have heard over and over the frustration from family members their disbelief on how long it takes to get a death certificate, and I have seen the satisfaction of those who were fortunate to have medical professional sign electronically and perfectly satisfied. Unnecessary Frustration is something these families do not need at a time of their loved ones passing.
