My husband had cancer, and required radiation. As a young cancer patient, his oncologist wanted to use a newer, more targeted approach to limit the damage to his heart. His oncologist had to fight with insurance to get that covered—simply being my husband's doctor was not enough to get the care my husband needed. I am completely against corporations, insurance, and anyone but medical professionals getting a say in how a patient receives care. As such, I support this bill to limit who/what gets to dictate how a patient receives care.
