It's very evident the states cannot rely on federal funds and firefighting help due to the dismantling of the federal government by Donald J. Trump and his oligarch cronies. For these reasons, we need to start making investments in wildfire prep on our own and increase state funding sources.

Bottledrop is great, but it's also become a homeless, druggy hangout place, and lots of homeless people waste taxpayer dollars emptying water bottles to get the refund for drugs. BottleDrop which depends on recycling revenue has asked me to oppose this but I support it.
