This is a terrible idea. This will decentivize strikers from returning to work. This is especially true for public employees. We saw what happened with PPS teachers, they held students and parents hostage for over a month and their net gain was small. If they were getting paid during that strike, they would have never returned to work. I know the unions control the Democrats in this state, but if the democrats had any loyalty to the actual citizens instead of special interest groups, they would vote this bill down without a second thought.
