Twenty or so years ago, I was entranced with a documentary on PBS that showed the amazing results of re-introducing beavers back to an almost desert area in Nevada. With the return of beavers to a small waterway, the environmental changes to that part of Nevada slowly evolved. The dams built by the beavers caused the water to spread out. Plants returned. It became lush and filled with wildlife. It was amazing! If not impeded, nature often has a way of restoration far superior to efforts of man.

Please pass HB 3932!

Thank you,
