In the age of Trump and his authoritarian rule that decreases our rights more every day, I do NOT feel comfortable with being surveilled at the whim of any government agency. It seems like another grasp to steal my free agency. The Nazis would have loved to have had such a tool. We should not go there at this time and probably never. We don't want to end up like China with surveillance everywhere. We already have too many cameras on the streets. Let's not make it easier for citizens who have no due process to be jailed or deported. Never fathomed I'd have that thought, but sadly, there it is.

Not paranoid, just a realist
