Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB3190

Have you been to Europe? It is filled with beautiful historic buildings. San Francisco? Nobody goes to ugly places to visit. Rich people do not live in ugly places, and property values decline when the buildings are cheap and ugly. Beauty matters, and buildings that were built in the 19th century preserve that beauty. The value of these rare and beautiful buildings will go up as time goes on, and so will the value of our communities.
