HB3365

I strongly support the Climate Education Bill HB 3365 which will help realize local and statewide goals of expanding climate education and integrating it into all core subject areas from K to 12th grade.

It is imperative that students have an understanding of the issues of climate change. I am a retired GED instructor. I always explored the impact of climate change with my students using math and science content areas. Many students hadn't known about the important concepts and they were very engaged. I see Climate Change Act as an opportunity for integrating other content areas, such as literature and Career and Technology into K-12 education and improving lives of the future generation.
