House Committee on Revenue

Re: House Bill 2977

Dear Chair Representative Nathanson, Vice-Chairs Representatives Reschke and Walters and members of the Committee:

I am opposed to more taxes for just about any reason. But of course any time politicians come up with increases in current ones or new ones it's always for something really, really needy. There's never a move to cut back somewhere else. Or, god forbid, wait until the economy can afford it.

When I travel in state I do not appreciate having to pay more. The last time the total taxes came to over $60.00. Nearly one third the cost of the room!

It's not going to happen any time soon but some day we'll get some politicians in office who won't treat citizens as cash cows.

More taxation. Just what the populace needs. Thanks for making living in Oregon even more expensive.
