Before cellphones... yes.. I go back even further.. the front desk answered phones from parents or informed parents of emergencies. Somehow we made it through. And somehow our grades - anything below a C - was unacceptable.

I believe ANY electronic device students have in any grade K-12 and above - should not be allowed.

I hate math. I passed algebra. I hated statistics. I passed it. I hated social studies. I passed it.

We were already concerned and distracted enough with the opposite sex or passing notes. And still, we passed.

To allow kids to use their phones to chat or bully others because they are bored and know they can pass WITHOUT being able to READ OR WRITE or do MATH is short-sighted unless the supermajority is in favor of 80% students to do only manual labor.
