

I am in full support of ending funding for tests that cause harm to dogs, cats or any other animal which does not appear to have significant or even some benefit to humans, and am denounce any practice which causes physical pain or distress to said animals, for research or otherwise.