

Submitter: Taylor Gibson

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Education

Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB2900

There's not one other industry or sector with three year probationary periods. This contributes to the de-professionalization of teachers, who are predominantly women. The probationary period should only last one year and no teacher should have to start back on probation if they switch districts.