After the Climategate e-mails, I took a harder look at so-called "climate science" and found it to be problematic, manipulative, and unfounded. What was once a legitimate scientific debate over a hypothesis generated by the JASON group in the 70's had become a religious dogma, and those who did not go with the flow would be gradually marginalized. The reality is "Climate Inc." has become a tool of social control and financial fraud.

This is more of the same by the Climate Cronies who screw the public for their special interests with no public benefit to the taxpayer. The sponsors of this legislation are a danger to the health and welfare of Oregonian retirees.
