

The transfer process should not be used as an opportunity to restrict a water right. There already is a process to restrict water water users. The WRD is already way behind in processing applications. Adding new criteria will only result in further delays.

Thomas Gruszczenski PE, CWRE