Not sure you realize this, but the more rules you make the worse the state becomes to live in. Maybe its time you quit creating problems and start fixing a few. Taking away water rights sounds like a real problem to me. You already took away the 2nd amendment and probably going for the 1st pretty soon is my guess. I really am enjoying when I go out of state now. I go to Idaho or NV and its like I live in a free country. They hand me shopping bags and straws without even asking. But I have only lived here 56 years so maybe I need to see another 20 or 30 of your rules to see how good it will get because you are so much smarter than our leaders were 50 years ago. You can solve problems that don't even exist except in your own mind.
