Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB1095

This bill violates common sense as the control of a private home is the control and responsibility of the home owner..not the government! It is a prime example of government overstepping it's responsibility of only administrating those functions essential to society that cannot be performed by private entities home owners must be free to administer their property without undue government interference.

This is simply common sense and should be utilized as an additional revenue source for government agencies.
