This will make the second time I have submitted an opposition to this insanity. Oregon has no money to fix roads and yet this is what legislators decide is seriously up for consideration? it is remarkable that this bill even has a slim chance, yet it will be forced upon Oregonians regardless of current national rulings by the United States Supreme Court.

The division of partisan politics deepens further punishing the law abiding while freeing those that are committing crimes to do more. Up is down, right is wrong and elected officials are either to blind to see or have chosen to not see what is right in front of them. A law like this will most certainly be challenged. Elected representatives will just spend more money they do not have to support it.

How much more needs said to stop these poorly crafted, non-partisan and unjust laws?
