When your car gets stolen and the perp walks out of the police station 2 hour's later, like what happened to me, you would be really pissed off with the law makers outlawing my personal property as with FRT triggers. I own one and it took several years to track one down. This law will give me zero recourse but to become a criminal. Your police will have to pry it from my cold dead hands.

Come and take it!

I am sick of the failed government that is legalizing crime and criminalizing good law abiding citizens. This bill is unwanted.
